ACTIONS

 Attack: Spell, Melee- or Ranged-Attack

 Help: You can help an ally do something to give him advantage on his roll

 Dash: Take more movement in your current turn

 Hide: Make a Stealth Check to hide

 Grapple: Grapple is a combat action where a creature attempts to grab and hold another creature.

 Hold Action: Allows a character to prepare an action in response to a specific trigger, executing it later during the round when the trigger occurs.

 Disengage: Allows a character to move away from enemies without provoking opportunity attacks for the rest of the turn.

 Dodge: All attack rolls against you to have disadvantage, and you also have advantage on Dexterity saving throws until the start of your next turn.

MOVEMENT

 Move: Use your movement speed to traverse the battlefield during your turn

 Prone: A Condition where a creature is lying on the ground, causing disadvantage on attack rolls and reducing movement to crawling unless the creature stands up.

 Standing Up: Allows a creature to end the Prone condition by using half of its movement speed on its turn.

BONUS-ACTION

 Two-Weapon Fighting: Use your bonus action to make an attack with a different light melee weapon in your other hand. The off-hand attack doesn't add your ability modifier to the damage unless it's negative.

 Spell as Bonus Action: This is typically allowed by specific spells or features, and only one spell can be cast as a bonus action per turn.

REACTIONS

 Opportunity Attack: a melee weapon attack or unarmed strike you can make as a reaction when a creature leaves your melee reach without using the Disengage action.

 Counterspell: A spell that allows you to use your reaction to interrupt and cancel another creature's spell as it is being cast, provided you are within range and can cast Counterspell.
